Session 1

Dr Rahat Maitland Consultant Diabetologist QEUH

Clinical lead for the South Glasgow Diabetes in Pregnancy Service. Post-CCT fellowship in Obstetric Medicine. Established a pre-pregnancy clinic for diabetic women. Subspecialist interest in utilising technologies in the management of Type 1 Diabetes.

Dr Janet Brennand Consultant Obstetrician QEUH

Subspecialist interest in Maternal & Fetal Medicine. Director of Scottish RCOG MFM training programme. Clinical interests include high risk medical obstetrics, particularly cardiac disease; involved in setting-up Scottish Obstetric Cardiac Network. I enjoy the finer things in life, and all things Icelandic - the two are not mutually exclusive!

Dr Beth Routledge Consultant Acute Medicine FVRH

Specialist interest in Obstetric Medicine. Particular interest in optimising teaching/training interface between physicians and obstetricians, to improve the care of medically unwell pregnant patients. Member of Scottish Government's Maternal Medicine working group. Author of forthcoming 'The hypertensive disorders of pregnancy' for the journal of Anaesthesia and Intensive Care Medicine.

Session 2

Dr Mathew Morrison Consultant Psychiatrist GRI/GGC

Consultant Liaison Psychiatrist and Lead Clinician for GGC Specialist Services including the Perinatal Mental Health Service.

Dr Colin Rae Consultant Anaesthetist/Pain GRI/Stobhill

Lead Clinician NHS GGC Managed Clinical Network for Chronic Pain, member of National Improvement Group for Chronic Pain Services in Scotland, RCOA representative on SIGN Council, and Scottish Board of RCoA. Council member of North British Pain Association and Editor of 'Threshold'. Publications include management of burns pain. Interest in supporting patients to reduce opioids for chronic pain.

Dr Mike Kinsella ST Anaesthesia/ICM Ninewells

MD investigating maternal health and modifiable lifestyle factors, in particular drug and alcohol use; aiming to use routinely collected data to improve health of mothers & offspring across Scotland (sup. Dr R Kearns).

Session 3

Dr Yavor Metodiev Consultant Anaesthetist University Hospital of Wales, Cardiff

OAA executive committee member and editorial boards of IJOA and Anaesthesia Reports. Research interests revolve around TIVA in obstetrics and the peripartum management of high-risk pregnant patients... and is a keen Welsh language learner!

Dr Cliff Shelton Consultant Anaesthetist Wythenshawe Hospital, Manchester

Clinical lead for sustainability. Recent work includes the evaluation of catalytic nitrous oxide destruction ('cracking') technology on the labour ward, and 'Greener Operations', a James Lind Alliance research priority setting partnership on sustainable peri-operative practice. Clinical interests include anaesthesia for hip fracture surgery, obstetrics and emergencies.

Dr Lucy Halliday Clinical Fellow/PhD Student Glasgow

Final year of PHD (sup. Dr R Kearns). Special interest in using big data to improve obstetric anaesthetic care. Currently an anaesthetic trainee at the Royal Alexandra Hospital, Paisley.

Dr Malcolm Broom Consultant Anaesthetist GRI/PRMH

Clinical lead in obstetric anaesthesia at PRMH. Anaesthetic lead for the West of Scotland Placenta Accreta Spectrum service, with associated interest in the management of major obstetric haemorrhage and the role of VHAs/TEG. Ongoing QI interest in management of ADP/PDPH.
